

2019 SOCIAL MEDIA DIRECTOR PROGRAM

Have Jonathan & his team train you directly – onsite and online!

Our goal is to work alongside you using our 10 years of Social Media experience and our latest training modules to maximize every opportunity within your business and help you to grow successfully. Just for Canadian small businesses, we have created an Intensive Social Media & Online Marketing Training Program.

This tailor-made training will span 80 hours over a 15 week period with a mix of onsite training, weekly Webinars, one on one tuition and accountability, and constant feedback. We will work with each person individually, benchmarking where they're starting from and each week we will study and benchmark progress through a review of your work achieved.

The 2019 Social Media Director Program topics will cover:

DIGITAL MARKETING STRATEGIC PLAN

We will help you develop your own unique strategy that brings into alignment all aspects of your online marketing, social media and traditional marketing efforts. This phase will work in conjunction with your website design team, resulting in your own strategic marketing plan. Your customized plan summarizes the findings of your online marketing, including recommended channels and engagement strategies.

- Develop content marketing strategies for each specific channel
- Identify tactics to increase and engage with your audience – both current clients and potential prospects
- Documented systems to help you manage the day-to-day activities of your accounts without taking up too much of your time

DIGITAL MARKETING SETUP, OPTIMIZATION AND STRATEGY EXECUTION

We will begin by teaching you how to implement and set up your own digital strategy for each of your divisions. During this phase we will be training you how to test and monitor multiple platforms, strategies and techniques to ensure that you receive outstanding results.

Content development brain-storming session: Individual ½ day sessions to create content for your blog and social media platforms.

OVERVIEW

We want to ensure that you are fully equipped to manage your online and social media marketing strategy so you can further benefit from the possibilities and continue to tell your story. We will provide all the training to you so that you have the skills and resources to expertly handle your social media channels and sell from them with excellence.

We will arrange individual weekly accountability meetings either in person, or via phone or Skype, starting with an overview of your current social media marketing. We'll note the numbers of likes, followers etc so that we can measure growth.

Each week will feature a one hour webinar on every topic we've included, which will conclude with follow up live Q&A each week over virtual coffee. We'll also have a private Facebook group for more general group questions and discussions. Ongoing email support is also available during the duration of the program.

We will continually review opportunities for other social media accounts and integration.

- Case Studies: Assessment of current We Make Stuff Happen Clients to learn from and evaluate.
- Direct Observation: Assessment of practical skills, which can be demonstrated via your social activity.
- Performance Projects: Developing Blog Content and subsequent engagement.
- Self Assessment: Program members develop their own written and creative skills and judgment to assess themselves and their company. We will assign specific projects to help you stretch and grow.
- Projects: We will help you create special events, related to your company marketing calendar and use Social Media to leverage these.
- Simulations: We will simulate a Social Media crisis and help you manage the critical path of execution

OUTCOME

At the end of your intensive training program, you will be awarded the certification of Social Media Director. This is an industry-recognized designation. Your studies will be monitored weekly and will be measured by the number and quality of posts across chosen platforms.

OUR TRAINING PHILOSOPHY

- Sustained effort: Success does not come overnight, but through doing the right things consistently over a period of time.
- Quality: Providing quality content through social media channels builds the brand, but poor quality content – poorly written or in poor taste – can hurt the brand. For this reason, we place a premium on the quality of the content.
- Value Added: Social media is not about broadcasting your products and services; we focus on helping you be an added value to your fans, followers and engage in the online community.
- Humanize: Social Media will humanize your brand and allow your ideal audience to relate to you and become ambassadors for your Company.
